GIRARD'S SECRET —Stephen Girard used to say in his old age "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business and the prelude to wealth And I have made an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as in the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that otherwise would have been lost

VOL XII. PORTLAND, OREGON THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 21, 1872 NO 256

ORLGON

Twenty two thousand pounds of pork was received from wagons at St Joe on last Tuesday

A gentleman from the Dalles informs us that the snow on the road from that place to Tygh Valley is 10 inches deep and cattle are faring badly

Four members of the typographical profession joined the Good Templars at Salem last Saturday night We expect some of them mortally surprised their stomachs

Thomas Skeene of Yamhill county, was fined $100 by Judge Benham of the Circuit Court, at the late term in that county for an assault made by him with a deadly weapon

The Eugene Journal says it is currently reported that the Oregon Central Military Road Company have sold their land grant for $484 000 The name of the purchaser is not given

It is reported that snow has fallen to a considerable depth in Ochoco Valley, and that some of the farmers there are poorly provided with food for their stock if the winter should prove a long and severe one

The members of the State Board of Equalization or the two thirds of it represented by the two ex-Governors, are in session at Salem waiting for the form of the other third in the person of Col Gates to put in an appearance

The Statesman is informed that Robert Mayo, of Tygh Valley, Wasco county has twelve hundred head of cattle scattered over a country of twenty five miles in extent and has not food enough to last them through two weeks of bad weather.

The Statesman says "There are three boats, the Albany, Dayton and Success, plying on the river now, each one making regular trips as high as the stage of water will allow The river has not, however, risen enough to make steamboating altogether an ideal as some parlor amusements are said mention

A daughter of William Laughead, of Salem, met with a severe accident while playing around the house on Monday afternoon She in some way fell to the floor, doubling her right arm under her, breaking it. Owing to her tender age she suffers extremely, but is at present doing as well as could be expected

A Chinaman convict in the Penitentiary has gone crazy on the subject of vocal music. He sings constantly and is able to run the gamut from * * * above to "fy" below, and he singing is described as a cross between the Scotch bagpipe and the grating of a rat tail file sharpening a hand saw The other convicts are getting tired of the Celestial's noise, and talk of quitting the premises

THE TERRITORIES

Rev D McLeod, the famous anti Mormon lecturer of Utah, has arrived in San Francisco

H. G Struve has resumed editorial control of the Puget Sound Courier after an absence from his post for four weeks

George Wheeler died suddenly at Muckilteo, Thursday morning of last week, from the effect of heavy drinking He was noted on the Sound for being the best car driver in the country

Felix Flanagan, of Fidalgo, was fined forty-five dollars for fleecing foolish Tom. Terhune, of Tacoma, to the tune of a "twenty," on Tuesday the thirteenth, in the trans-Columbia Territory.

John F Smith, (Rep.) has been elected to the Legislative Council of Washington Territory, from the District composed of the counties of Clark, Cowlitz, Wahkiakum and Pacific, and B F Shaw, (Dem.) has been elected from the District composed of Yakima, Klickitat, Skamania and Clark counties

The Courier says The vote of Klickitat county stands 120 for Garfield to 45 for McCladen The vote for Prosecuting Attorney stands 120 for J M Fletcher, 33 for W S Dodge and 5 for C C. Hewitt It may be regarded as settled beyond a doubt that Mr Fletcher is elected as Prosecuting Attorney for the 2d Judicial District

The Bozeman City Avant Courier says that Fort Parker, known as the Yellowstone Mission, or Crow Agency, located in the Upper Yellowstone valley, about thirty five miles east of Bozeman, was totally destroyed by fire on the 31st ult This Post was erected in 1869 by Col L M Black. It was well designed for the purpose for which it was built, being substantially constructed of square hewed logs, shingle roof, with quarters for the agents and attaches, store houses etc The aggregate loss will amount to $70 000 The original cost of the stockade and buildings destroyed amounted to about $50,000 Some 4,000 sacks of flour, besides other Indian supplies, were burnt

The Denver Tribune, after referring to the work already accomplished by the exploring expedition under Lieut Wheeler, says "The work of the past season is only preliminary to an extensive survey projected by the expedition, and submitted to the War Department, embracing the Territories of Colorado, Utah and Arizona, the results of which are to constitute a series of eighty five maps, similarly produced and issued, as soon as possible after each survey, in uniform size, a series which cannot fail to be of great advantage to settlers in the Territories and for a correct knowledge of the western country The observations of the present season give renewed faith in the vast mineral wealth of Western Colorado and Utah, largely undeveloped as yet, and in the existence of valuable and extensive coal beds, destined to play an important part in the development and settlement of all the Western Territories in general, and Colorado in particular"

A LINGUAL QUARREL —A singular controversy has occurred at Constantinople The government has determined that instruction in the Imperial School of Medicine shall be given in Turkish, and has removed all the professors who cannot speak the national language Of course this has occasioned an outcry on the part of the friends of those French speaking professors who have spent many years in the country and have not chosen to acquire its language The Turks say they started their school as a national school, and not as a foreign one, that the pupils received inadequate instruction from its being conveyed in a foreign language, and that they have not been supplied, as they expected, with manuals in Turkish The authorities have therefore, determined to run the risk of the change, and attempt to get for this school, as for others, books and teaching in the vernacular They maintain that, as medicine has for ages been taught in Arabic, it can be taught in Turkish—Athenæum

PHILADELPHIA EDITORS —George Alfred Townsend pays his respects to Philadelphia editors as follows

When the Great Angel comes to judge the world, and the average Philadelphia editor appears, there will be no more phenomenon in Heaven than if a small boy had been brought into palace court for wiping his nose on the silk skirt of one of the Muses The Angel will look at this editor with a sort of every day commiseration not wholly unmixed with disgust He will say 'I do not know any sentence small enough for you, and yet the character of this case demands the highest punishment known to the law I think I will sentence you to have Brains Take Brains and return to your vocation Follow it as meanly as you have done hitherto, and be compelled to estimate yourself Depart—or, rather shoo!"

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 18.

EASTERN STATES.

Massachusetts Legislature

BOSTON Nov 19 —The first days session of the Legislature was mainly occupied by receiving petitions for and limits to insurance charters and appointment of Committees

Universal Amnesty

NEW YORK Nov 19 —A special to the Herald, Washington, 19th instant, says there is good reason for believing that the President will in his forthcoming Message recommend Congress to complete the work of amnesty by making it universal, and by restoring those to citizenship who were excluded by the third section of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution Such a course has been urged upon the President by several members of his Cabinet, and one of them is authority for saying he has decided to do so

Alabama Legislature

MONTGOMERY Nov 19 —Four other Conservatives have arrived and enrolled their names at the Capitol on the Republican side, making fifty—one less than a quorum—when both Houses adjourned until to morrow.

Railway Connections

NEW YORK Nov 19 —The Missouri Kansas and Texas Railroad track will reach Red River to morrow, and Denison Texas this month The Texas Central will reach Dennis about January 1st, completing the great railway line from New York to Galveston, via St Louis.

Dr George Cochrane Health Officer of Brooklyn, died this afternoon of pneumonia

Cholera Reported

A report was in circulation this afternoon that a vessel with cholera on board had arrived in the lower bay No particulars have been received, and the rumor is yet unconfirmed

"Colonel" Blood in a Corner

Justice Fowler has rendered a formal decision in the case of Colonel J H. Blood on the charge of having published a scandalous libel on L O Chaille saying The defendant has utterly failed to prove the truth of the charges contained in the obnoxious articles or any of them, and orders that he be held in $5 000 bail.

WASHINGTON CITY

Disorders in New Orleans

WASHINGTON, Nov 19 —The United States Marshal of New Orleans telegraphed to the President on Saturday last for troops to aid him in arresting certain persons who had been conspiring against the election, and who manifested a disposition to resist the Federal authorities The President promptly refused to comply with the request, declaring such action entirely unnecessary as nobody when there was no information showing that the civil authorities were powerless to execute the laws

Disapproved

WASHINGTON Nov 19 —The action of the United States Marshal in Alabama in arresting Democratic members of the Legislature for the alleged violation of the election laws and expressing them to inability to prevent a quorum is sorely condemned here by the administration as unwise, unnecessary and perhaps illegal, if the account of the affair as telegraphed North is correct The Marshal who made the arrests will receive a severe reprimand, and be dismissed from office Such is the view of Attorney General Williams

From Paris

PARIS Nov 19 —M Thiers is much agitated over yesterday s proceedings in assembly, and passed a sleepless night He declares he will resign unless a full vote of confidence is passed The deputies of the Left hold a meeting to-day and voted to send a delegation to the President to persuade him from his purpose A deputation waited upon him this evening, and Thiers told them he was in earnest to tender his resignation on the ground that his health had been affected and the course of the Right rendered it impossible for him to conduct the Government The army was faithful, and this would ensure orderly transmission of power to his successor A delegation assured the President that the Left would introduce a constitutional clause in harmony with his views to-morrow or Thursday, the passage of which would be fully equivalent to a vote of confidence.

PARIS, Nov 19 —Midnight—The members of the Right also held a caucus to-day They resolved to oppose any formal proclamation of the Republic, and abstain from combinations for restoration of the Monarchy, and adhere to the fact that Bordeaux some time ago declared its willingness to grant Thiers Presidency for life, if he will frankly take conservative ground constitute a responsible ministry and give up his right to participate in Parliamentary debate. A cabinet meeting was held at Versailles to-night but nothing was decided upon The cabinet meets again to-morrow morning There are rumors that the Ministers will resign, but it is hoped the crisis is passed

UTAH.

From Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE Nov 19 —There was a cutting affray Sunday night at American Fork one Greenwood attacking James Robbins, stabbing him twice in the neck and breast. His injuries are probably fatal.

ELECTION IN THE SOUTH

BALTIMORE, Nov 8 —Mr. C C Fulton has just telegraphed to the President as follows "Greeley's majority in Maryland is down to 1,200, with a prospect of a further reduction" As usual, the Democrats started off with exaggerated claims as to the result, but the official returns are gradually making a better show to the Republicans Grant runs far ahead of the Congressional candidates

SAVANNAH Nov 8 —It is now certain that the Republicans have elected Andrew Sloan in the First District, R H Whiteley in the Second and J C Freeman in the Fifth The State has gone for Greeley by about 12,000 majority

MONTGOMERY, Ala, Nov 8 —Grant carried Alabama by from 4 000 to 6 000 majority The entire Republican State ticket is elected by a small majority Four, and probably five Republicans are elected to Congress The aspect of the Legislature is doubtful, but four votes will cover the majority either way

LITTLE ROCK Ark, Nov 8 —The election of Asa Hodges (Rep) in the First District is conceded by 2 500 majority Snyder, (Rep) in the Second District, is re elected by 1,500 majority Gunter (Dem) is elected in the Third District by about 2,000 majority Returns from half the State give Baxter (Rep) 2 500 majority His election is thought certain, as also the entire Republican State ticket, with possibly one or two exceptions The Legislature is Republican

NEW ORLEANS, Nov 8 —Returns, mostly unofficial from forty four parishes outside of Orleans, give the Republicans a net majority of 6 473 The same parishes, in 1870, gave a net Republican majority of 19,469 The remaining eight parishes, in 1870, gave a net Democratic majority of 492 About one-fourth of the city vote is counted, and gives the Democrats a net majority of 3,334

NASHVILLE, Nov 8 —Full returns from counties outside of East Tennessee, amounting to about one fourth of the whole State, give Greeley a majority In the same counties in 1870, Brown, Democrat, had 9,665 majority, Democratic loss, 5 330 In the Democratic loss be no greater in the remainder of the State, Greeley's majority will be about 15,000, but Grant's gains in East Tennessee will probably reduce it to 10,000

ST LOUIS Nov 8 —The Republican says the official and reported returns of seventy one counties give Greeley a majority of 18,294, and that journal expects that the remaining forty three counties will increase it not less than 10,000

Complete returns for this county give Greeley 19 433, Grant, 16,598, Greeley's majority, 2 765 O'Connor polled 346 votes Woodson, Democrat, for Governor, 19,052 Henderson, Republican, 16,002, Woodson's majority, 2,050

Of the county ticket, the Republicans elected their Circuit Judge, County Marshal, Public Administrator Assistant Circuit Attorney, Superintendent of Schools, one County Judge, and have one State Senator out of three, and five Representatives out of fourteen The contest for Sheriff is very close, Taylor, Democrat, beating McGuire, Republican, by only fourteen votes

The three Congressional Districts in the county stand thus First—Stenard, (Rep.) 5,271, Grosvenor, (Dem.) 5 129, Second—Wells (Dem.) 8 269, Bryson, (Rep.) 7,867 Third—Stone, (Dem) 5 197 Hilton, (Rep.) 3,819, McBridge, (Ind Dem.) 1,592

The Democrat, this morning, estimates the Legislature as follows Senate—Republicans, 19, Democrats 18, Scrubeads, 3, House—Republicans, 38, Democrats, 54, Independent, 1, undetermined, 12

The Fifth Auditor reports that over 11,000 accounts have been settled by his office during the past year, involving over $720,000,000

The breach of promise case between an Anglo-Saxon citizen of Olympia, and a dusky maiden of the forest, has been amicably settled by the marriage of the parties One less chance for the bachelors, observes a local paper

ADVERTISING

Has created many a new business;
Has enlarged many an old business;
Has revived many a dull business;
Has rescued many a lost business;
Has saved many a failing business;
Has preserved many a large business;
And insures success in any business.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many a customer that otherwise would have lost."

ADVERTISE YOUR BUSINESS.

KEEP YOUR NAME BEFORE THE PUBLIC.

JUDICIOUS ADVERTISING INSURES A FORTUNE.

IF BUSINESS IS DULL, ADVERTISE.

IF BUSINESS IS BRISK, ADVERTISE.

OREGON.

Twenty two thousand pounds of pork was received from wagons at St. Joe on last Tuesday.

A gentleman from the Dalles informs us that the snow on the road from that place to Tygh Valley is 10 inches deep, and cattle are faring badly.

Four members of the typographical profession joined the Good Templars at Salem last Saturday night. We expect some of them mortally surprised their stomachs.

Thomas Skeens, of Yamhill county, was fined $100 by Judge Bonham of the Circuit Court, at the late term in that county, for an assault made by him with a deadly weapon.

The Eugene Journal says it is currently reported that the Oregon Central Military Road Company have sold their land grant for $184,000. The name of the purchaser is not given.

It is reported that snow has fallen to a considerable depth in Osboco Valley, and that some of the farmers there are poorly provided with food for their stock if the winter should prove a long and severe one.

The members of the State Board of Equalization or the two-thirds of it represented by the two ex-Governors, are in session at Salem waiting for the form of the other third in the person of Col. Gates to put in an appearance.

The Statesman is informed that Robert Mays, of Tygh Valley, Wasco county, has twelve hundred head of cattle scattered over a country of twenty-five miles in extent, and has not feed enough to last them through two weeks of bad weather.

The Statesman says: "There are three boats, the Albany, Dayton and Success, plying on the river now, each one making regular trips as high as the stage of water will allow. The river has not, however, risen enough to make steamboating altogether an nice an some parlor amusements we could mention."

A daughter of William Laughead, of Salem, met with a severe accident while playing around the house on Monday afternoon. She in some way fell to the floor, doubling her right arm under her, breaking it. Owing to her tender age she suffers extremely, but is at present doing as well as could be expected.

A Chinaman convict in the Penitentiary has gone crazy on the subject of vocal music. He sings constantly and is able to run the gamut from * * * above to "ty" below, and his singing is described as a cross between the Scotch bagpipe and the grating of a rat-tail file sharpening a hand saw. The other convicts are getting tired of the Celestial's noise, and talk of quitting the premises.

THE TERRITORIES.

Rev. D. McLeod, the famous anti-Mormon lecturer of Utah, has arrived in San Francisco.

H. G. Struve has resumed editorial control of the Puget Sound Courier after an absence from the post for four weeks.

George Wheeler died suddenly at Muckilteo, Thursday morning of last week, from the effect of heavy drinking. He was noted on the Sound for being the best, or driver in the country.

Frits Flanagan, of Fidalgo, was fined forty-five dollars for flogging foolish Tom. Tachune, of Tacoma, to the tune of a "twenty," on Tuesday the thirteenth, in the trans-Columbia Territory.

John F. Smith, (Rep.,) has been elected to the Legislative Council of Washington Territory, from the District composed of the counties of Clark, Cowlitz, Wahkiakum and Pacific, and B. H. Shaw, (Dem.,) has been elected from the District composed of Yakima, Klickitat, Skamania and Clark counties.

The Courier says. The vote of Klickitat county stands 120 for Garfield to 45 for McFaddon. The vote for Prosecuting Attorney stands 120 for J. M. Fletcher, 33 for W. S. Dodge and 9 for C. C. Hewitt. It may be regarded as settled beyond a doubt that Mr. Fletcher is elected as Prosecuting Attorney for the 2d Judicial District.

The Bozeman City Avant Courier says that Fort Parker, known as the Yellowstone Mission, or Crow Agency, located in the Upper Yellowstone valley, about thirty-five miles east of Bozeman, was totally destroyed by fire on the 31st ult. This Post was erected in 1869 by Col. L. M. Black. It was well designed for the purpose for which it was built, being substantially constructed of square hewed logs, shingle roof with quarters for the agents and attaches, store-houses, etc. The aggregate loss will amount to $75,000. The original cost of the stockade and buildings destroyed amounted to about $50,000. Some 4,000 sack of flour, besides other Indian supplies, were burnt.

The Denver Tribune, after referring to the work already accomplished by the exploring expedition under Lieut. Wheeler, says: "The work of the past season is only preliminary to an extensive survey projected by the expedition, and submitted to the War Department, embracing the Territories of Colorado, Utah and Arizona, the results of which are to constitute a series of eighty five maps, similarly produced and issued, as soon as possible after each survey, in uniform size; a series which cannot fail to be of great advantage to settlers in the Territories and for a correct knowledge of the western country The observations of the present season give renewed faith in the vast mineral wealth of Western Colorado and Utah, largely undeveloped as yet, and in the existence of valuable and extensive coal beds, destined to play an important part in the development and settlement of all the Western Territories in general, and Colorado in particular."

A LINGUAL QUARREL.—A singular controversy has occurred at Constantinople. The government has determined that instruction in the Imperial School of Medicine shall be given in Turkish, and has removed all the professors who cannot speak the national language. Of course this has occasioned an outcry on the part of the friends of those French speaking professors who have spent many years in the country and have not chosen to acquire its language. The Turks say they started their school as a national school, and not as a foreign one, that the pupils received inadequate instruction from its being conveyed in a foreign language; and that they have not been supplied, as they expected, with manuals in Turkish. The authorities have, therefore, determined to run the risk of the change, and attempt to get for this school, as for others, books and teaching in the vernacular. They maintain that as medicine lies for ages been taught in Arabic, it can be taught in Turkish—Athenæum.

PHILADELPHIA EDITORS.—George Alfred Townsend pays his respects to Philadelphia editors as follows

When the Great Angel comes to judge the world, and the average Philadelphia editor appears, there will be no more phenomenon in Heaven than if a small boy had been brought into palace court for wiping his nose on the silk skirt of one of the Muses. The Angel will look at this editor with a sort of every-day commiseration, not wholly unmixed with disgust. He will say "I do not know any sentence small enough for you, and yet the character of this assize demands the highest punishment known to the law. I think I will sentence you to have Brains. Take Brains and return to your vocation. Follow it as meanly as you have done hitherto, and be compelled to estimate yourself. Depart—or, rather shoo!"

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 18.

EASTERN STATES.

Massachusetts Legislature.

BOSTON, Nov 19.—The first days session of the Legislature was mainly occupied by receiving petitions for amendments to insurance charters, and appointment of Committees.

Universal Amnesty.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—A special to the Evening Post, dated Washington, 19th instant, says there is good reason for believing that the President will, in his forthcoming Message, recommend Congress to complete the work of amnesty by making it universal, and by restoring those to citizenship who are now excluded by the third section of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution. Such a course has been urged upon the President by several members of his Cabinet; and one of them is authority for saying he has decided to do so.

Alabama Legislature.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 16.—Four other Conservatives have arrived and enrolled their names at the Capitol on the Republican side, making fifty—one less than a quorum—when both Houses adjourned until to morrow.

Railway Connections.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad track will reach Red river to-morrow, and Dennis, Texas, this month. The Texas Central will reach Dennis about January 1st, completing the great railway line from New York to Galveston, via St. Louis.

Dr. George Cochrane, Health Officer of Brooklyn, died this afternoon of pneumonia.

Cholera Reported.

A report was in circulation this afternoon that a vessel with cholera on board had arrived in the lower bay.—No particulars have been received, and the rumor is yet unconfirmed.

"Colonel" Blood in a Corner

Justice Fowler has rendered a formal decision in the case of Colonel J. H. Blood, on the charge of having published a scandalous libel on L. G. Chollis saying: "The defendant has utterly failed to prove the truth of the charges contained in the obnoxious articles or any of them," and orders that he be held in $5,000 bail.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Disorders in New Orleans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 —The United States Marshal of New Orleans telegraphed to the President on Saturday last for troops to aid him in arresting certain persons who had been conspiring against the election, and who manifested a disposition to resist the Federal authorities The President promptly refused to comply with the request, declaring such action entirely unnecessary, especially when there was no information showing that the civil authorities were powerless to execute the laws.

Disapproved.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 —The action of the United States Marshal in Alabama in arresting Democratic members of the Legislature for the alleged violation of the election laws, and carrying them to Mobile to prevent a quorum, is severely condemned here by the administration as unwise, unnecessary and perhaps illegal, if the account of the affair as telegraphed to-day from Montgomery The Marshal who made the arrests will receive a severe reprimand, and be dismissed from office. Such is the view of Attorney General Williams.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—M Thiers is much agitated over yesterday's proceedings in assembly, and passed a sleepless night. He declares he will resign unless a full vote of confidence is passed. The deputies of the Left hold a meeting to day and voted to send a delegation to the President to persuade him from his purpose A deputation waited upon him this evening, and Thiers told them he was inclined to tender his resignation as his health had been affected and the course of the Right rendered it impossible for him to conduct the Government. The army was faithful, and this would cause orderly transmission of power to his successor. A delegation assured the President that the Left would introduce constitutional projects in harmony with his views to-morrow or Thursday, the passage of which would be fully equivalent to a vote of confidence.

PARIS, Nov. 19 —Midnight—The members of the Right also held a caucus to-day. They resolved to oppose any formal proclamation of the Republic, and abstain from combinations for restoration of the Monarchy; and adhere to the fact that Bordeaux some time ago declared its willingness to grant Theirs Presidency for life, if he will frankly take conservative ground, pointing to a responsible ministry and give up his right to participate in Parliamentary debates. A cabinet meeting was held at Versailles to-night but nothing was decided upon. The cabinet meets again to morrow morning Thiers are rumors that the Ministers will resign, but it is hoped the crisis is passed.

UTAH.

From Salt Lake.

SALT LAKE, Nov. 19 —There was a cutting affray Sunday night at Ameretto Park, one Greenwood attacking James Robbins, stabbing him twice in the neck and breast. His injuries are probably fatal.

ELECTION IN THE SOUTH.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—Mr. C. C. Fulton has just telegraphed to the President as follows. "Grarey's majority in Maryland is down to 2,200, with a prospect of a further reduction." As usual, the Democrats started off with exaggerated claims as to the result, but the official returns are gradually making a better show to the Republicans. Grant runs far ahead of the Congressional candidates.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 8 —It is now certain that the Republicans have elected Andrew Sloan in the First District, R. H. Whiteley in the Second and J. C. Freeman in the Fifth. The State has gone for Greeley by about 12,000 majority.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 8—Grant carried Alabama by from 4,000 to 6,000 majority. The entire Republican State ticket is elected by a small majority. Four, and probably five Republicans are elected to Congress. The report of the Legislature is doubtful, but four votes will cover the majority either way.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 8.—The election of Asa Hodges (Rep.) in the First District is conceded by 2,500 majority. Snyder, (Rep.) in the Second District, is re-elected by 1,500 majority. Gunter (Dem.) is elected in the Third District by about 2,000 majority. Returns from half the State give Baxter (Rep.) 2,500 majority. His election is thought certain, as also the entire Republican State ticket, with possibly one or two exceptions. The Legislature is Republican.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—Returning mostly unofficial, from forty four parishes outside of Orleans, give the Republicans a net majority of 6,473. The same parishes, in 1870, gave a net Republican majority of 12,489. The remaining eight parishes, in 1870, gave a net Democratic majority of 492. About one-fourth of the city vote is counted, and gives the Democrats a net majority of 3,334.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 8.—Full returns from counties outside of East Tennessee, amounting to about one-fourth of the whole State, give Greeley 4,205 majority. In the same counties in 1870, Brown, Democrat, had 9,065 majority; Democratic loss, 5,500. In the Democratic losslbe no greater in the remainder of the State, Greeley's majority will be about 15,000, but Grant's gains in East Tennessee will probably reduce it to 10,000.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8.—The Republican says the official and reported returns of seventy-one counties give Greeley a majority of 18,294, and that journal expects that the remaining forty three counties will increase it not less than 10,000.

Complete returns for this county give Greeley 10,453; Grant, 10,098; Greeley's majority, 2,755. O'Connor polled 336 votes. Woodson, Democrat, for Governor, 10,052: Henderson, Republican, 10,002, Woodson's majority, 2,000.

Of the county ticket, the Republicans elected their Circuit Judge, County Marshal, Public Administrator. Assistant Circuit Attorney, Superintendent of Schools, one County Judge, and have one State Senator out of three, and five Representatives out of fourteen The contest for Sheriff is very close, Taylor, Democrat, beating McGuire, Republican, by only fourteen votes.

The three Congressional Districts in the county stand thus. First—Stannard, (Rep.,) 5,271; Grosvenor, (Dem.,) 5,129, Second—Wells, (Dem.,) 8,263; Bryson, (Rep.,) 7,807; Third—Stone, (Dem.,) 5,197; Hilton, (Rep.,) 6,819; McBridge, (Ind. Dem.,) 1,592

The Democrat, this morning, estimates the Legislature as follows: Senate—Republicans, 13; Democrats 18; Soreheads, 3; House—Republicans, 38; Democrats, 54, Independent, 9; undetermined, 12.

The Fifth Auditor reports that over 11,000 accounts have been settled by his office during the past year, involving over $720,000,000.

The breach of promise case between an Anglo-Saxon citizen of Olympia, and a dusky maiden of the forest, has been amicably settled by the marriage of the parties. One less chance for the bachelors, observes a local paper.

THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 21, 1872.

The Indestructible Party

The Democratic paper of this city certainly possesses the organ of hope in an extraordinary degree of development. It declares its faith in the ability of the Democratic party to rise, Phœnix like, from the ashes of its recent consuming, and overthrow all its enemies. There is, reasons the Herald, a vital principle in the Democracy, which is indestructible in its nature, and aggressive in its manifestations, and which therefore must and will eventually triumph over all opposition.

Now, as to the proposition, that there is in the Democratic party a vital and affirmative principle, we confess to a feeling bordering upon scepticism. What vital and affirmative principle has it? What has been the platform of the party for the last few years? Merely, opposition to Republican rule, and nothing more. Years ago, the party held certain doctrines upon the subject of State Supremacy, and the right of one man to have property in another, and upon some collateral matters growing out of these, which furnished a basis for party organization. In this there was something affirmative and aggressive—so aggressive that it made war upon the nation, because the people would not give their assent to the Democratic dogmas. But these principles long ago disappeared from the stage of party politics. The result of the war which was produced by the aggressiveness of Democratic ideas, was unfavorable to the perpetuation of those ideas—drawing it mildly. The State Rights doctrine was buried out of sight with the remains of the defunct Southern Confederacy, and the right of human slavery became a question simply of speculative philosophy by the constitutional amendments which made it impossible for the relation of master and slave to exist in any State or Territory of the Union. The Democratic party have repeatedly recognized the fact that these questions were politically and finally disposed of. First, they recognized and accepted the abolition of slavery, then the enfranchisement of the freedmen and the irreversible decision of the question of equal rights, by the constitutional amendments. These being removed from the arena of political discussion, we think it will surely puzzle our hopeful neighbor to point out what is left of the essential principles of the Democracy.

We quite agree with the Herald that a party formed upon mere negatives, or upon opposition to some temporary measure of administration, or upon the question whether the men in office are as suitable persons to occupy publics positions as some person or o that could be named, cannot survive a single defeat, and can never, under any circumstances, become national in its character. And this is just the condition of the Democratic party—if there is any such party in existence—to-day. Where is its old-time doctrine that the Constitution protected citizens of slave States in carrying their slave property into "the common territory," when the Constitution has been so amended that there can be neither slave State nor slavery anywhere? Where is its old-time doctrine of State Sovereignty, since the terrible war which that doctrine produced has forever settled the question adversely to the Democratic theory—settled it so fully that the Democrats themselves never mention it any more, and a large proportion of them take it as a personal affront to be accused of ever having been its disciples? Where is the White-Man's-Government theory, the "last ditch" of the Democracy, since the irrevocable decree of the nation that citizenship shall no longer depend upon the accidents of race, color, or previous condition of servitude? And since all these are gone, what is there remaining of the principles of the party?

But the Herald thinks its party must possess some vital and imperishable principle, which will yet revive it and bear it on to victory, because in former years it triumphed over the Federalists and the other opposing organizations that sprang into being from time to time. So it did. But it had not then abandoned its affirmative principles. When the Republican party arose, asserting positive and aggressive ideas which appealed to the moral as well as the political sentiments and instincts of the American people, the Democracy fell never to rise again. The youthful party overmatched and defeated the victor of half a century, and then carried the country through the vicissitudes and exigencies of a great civil war, without losing the confidence of the people. This, itself, was such a success as has few parallels in modern history. And now, after twelve years of its ascendency, twelve years fraught with more complications and causes of embarrassment than any equal period of time since the foundation of the Government, its popular victory over the Democracy is more complete and overwhelming than any party ever achieved before.

Through all the exciting scenes of these twelve years the Republican party has adhered steadfastly to the doctrines of equality and justice which formed its first declaration of principles, and is still the party of positive and progressive ideas. For the very reasons assigned by the Herald why the Democracy must still live, and yet become the dominant party in the Government of the country, we expect the Republican party will bear rule till this generation shall have passed away. Because the Democratic party possesses none of the elements of permanency which the Herald ascribes to it, we consider its reorganization and future success out of the question.

The Hartford Courant pays this just tribute to the conduct of General Grant during the contest just closed: We rejoice first for the Republican party, and next for Gen Grant. The overwhelming victory is his vindication against the monstrous slanders that have pursued him since the beginning of the campaign. The people have taken the matter into their own hands, and have rebuked the infamous attacks upon a true soldier, and the inauguration of a Christian policy in the Government. For this vindication General Grant could afford to wait in silence. His bearing under the tide of obloquy poured upon him has been simply magnificent. He had faith in the just... of the American people, and to his slanderers he has uttered not a word.

In the Supreme Court of Illinois recently, Charles L. Wilson, proprietor of the Chicago Evening Journal, and Andrew Schuman, managing editor, were fined $100 and $200, respectively, for commenting upon the proceedings of the Court in a murder trial. The Chief Justice in imposing the fine, said he had no wish to be severe, and that the object of the Court would be accomplished, if they showed the press that it could not interfere with, or attempt to influence, the decisions of the Court with impunity.

The Physical Value of Prayer

Some time ago the religious and scientific world was startled by the appearance of an article from an anonymous writer, who had the endorsement of no eminent a scientist as Professor Tyndall as a student of science and a gentleman of learning proposing a physical test of the efficacy of prayer. The proposition was in short that a certain number of patients in one of the public hospitals should be selected and prayed for persistently for a given length of time by a given circle of religious people, while an equal number, similarly situated and with the same nursing and medical treatment, should be left out of their prayers; and then the result should be noted with scientific accuracy, and at the end of the experiment a careful comparison of the two classes of cases, it was submitted, would show whether or not there is any efficacy in prayer. Of course such a proposition shocked the religious sentiment of the world. It was praying at a mark, with all the scientific deliberation that would be exercised by a western frontiersman at a shooting match, and not a spiritual mark, at that. This was pronounced monstrous, and the proposition was deemed little short of downright sacrilege. So the buzz became very audible, not only about the ears of Professor Tyndall's unknown protege, but about the Professor's own ears also. His friend was declared to be a heretic, and himself no better than a heretic.

The anonymous man of science still remains behind the curtain, but his indorser comes forward, first in the Contemporary Review, and then in the Popular Science Monthly, and undertakes his defense. After stating the relations between science and religion, as he understands them, he says:

> It is under this aspect alone that the scientific student, so far as I represent him, has any wish to meddle with prayer. Forced upon his attention as a form of physical energy, or as the equivalent of such energy, he claims the right of subjecting it to those methods of examination from which all our present knowledge of the physical universe is derived. And if his researches lead him to a conclusion adverse to its claims, if his inquiries direct him still closer to the philosophy enfolded in the words, "He maketh his sun to shine on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain upon the just and upon the unjust"—he contends only for the displacement of prayer, not for its extinction. He simply says physical nature is not its legitimate domain.

This conclusion, moreover, must be based on pure physical evidence, and not on any inherent unreasonableness in the act of prayer. The theory that the system of nature is under the control of a being who changes phenomena in compliance with the prayers of men, is, in my opinion, a perfectly legitimate one. It may of course be rendered futile by being associated with conceptions which contradict it, but such conceptions form a necessary part of the theory. It is a matter of experience that an earthly father, who is at the same time both wise and tender, listens to the requests of his children, and, if they do not ask amiss, takes pleasure in granting their requests. We know also that this compliance extends to the alteration, within certain limits, of the current of events on earth. With this suggestion offered by our experience, it is no departure from scientific method to place behind natural phenomena a universal father, who, in answer to the prayers of his children, alters the currents of those phenomena. Thus far theology and science go hand in hand. The conception of an ether, for example, trembling with the waves of light, is suggested by the ordinary phenomena of wave motion in water and in air; and in like manner the conception of personal volition in nature is suggested by the ordinary action of man upon earth. I therefore urge no impossibilities, though you constantly charge me with doing so. I do not even urge inconsistency, but, on the contrary, frankly admit that you have as good a right to place your conception at the root of the phenomena as I have to place mine.

But, without verification, a theoretic conception is a mere figment of the intellect, and I am sorry to find us parting company at this point. The reign of theory, both in science and theology, lies behind the world of the senses, but the verification of theory comes in the sensible world. To check the theory we have but to compare the deductions from it with the facts of observation. If the deductions be in accordance with the facts, we accept the theory; if in opposition the theory is given up. A single experiment is frequently devised by which theory must stand or fall. Of this character was the determination of the velocity of light in liquids as a crucial test of the emission theory. According to Newton, light traveled faster in water than in air; according to an experiment suggested by Arago, and executed by Fizeau, and Foucault, it traveled faster in air than in water. The experiment was conclusive against Newton's theory.

It is not my habit of mind to think otherwise than solemnly of the feeling which prompts prayer. It is a potency which I should like to see guided, not extinguished, devoted to practical objects instead of wasted upon air. In some form or other not yet evident it may, as alleged, be necessary to man's highest culture. Certain it is that, while I rank many persons who employ it low in the scale of being, natural foolishness, bigotry, and intolerance, being in their case intensified by the notion that they have access to the ear of God, I regard others who employ it as the very cream of the earth. The faith that simply adds to the folly and ferocity of the one is turned to enduring sweetness, holiness, abounding charity, and self sacrifice by the other. Christianity, in fact, varies with the nature upon which it falls. Often unreasonable, if not contemptible, in its purer form prayer hints at discipline which few of us can neglect without moral loss. But no good can come of giving it a delusive value by claiming for it a power in physical nature. It may strengthen the heart to meet life's losses; and thus indirectly promote physical well being, as the digging of Æsop's orchard brought a treasure of fertility greater than the treasure sought. Such indirect issues we all admit; but it would be simply dishonest to affirm that it is such issues that are always in view. Here, for the present, I must end. I ask no space to reply to those railers who make such free use of the terms insolence, outrage, profanity, and blasphemy. They obviously lack the sobriety of mind necessary to give accuracy to their statements or to render their charges worthy of serious refutation.

The announcement of the resignation of President Thiers cannot but cause some sensation throughout this country. The excitement appears to be very great in Paris. The political habits of the French people, especially in Paris, have been such that any sudden and unexpected change in the Administration, is liable to produce disorders of a serious nature. The Republic has been in existence so short a time, that doubts may reasonably be entertained whether the public mind has become sufficiently familiar with the principles and necessities of popular government, to be able to preserve order and repress revolutionary tendencies, without some strong and firm man at the head of public affairs. There may be many men in France who are capable of managing the government as skillfully and as safely as President Thiers, and possibly one of these may be chosen to succeed him. Such, indeed, Marshal McMahon may prove himself to be. But at this time experiments with untried men are dangerous. Thiers has given the French nation as good government, probably, as it was possible for any man to give them under the circumstances which have surrounded him.

The N Y Times special from Washington says: The valuation of the taxable property of the District of Columbia, according to the assessments just completed, has increased over $11 000,000 within the year, standing for 1872 at $85,960,863, against $74,845,698 for 1... These assessments are based in each instance upon the price of sales nearest each separate piece of property assessed.

The Tribune of ... 9th, concedes that Grant has carried Tennessee by 5,000 majority. Its count gives Greeley five ... votes with an aggregate of fifty-four electoral votes, and Texas, with eight votes, to be heard from.

The Albany (N Y.) Journal thus speaks of the election of Havemeyer as Mayor of New York:

> The whole State and even the whole country may well rejoice over the election of Mr Havemeyer as Mayor of New York. This success crowns the battle of reform, as the course of his administration will perfect its work. The great metropolis has been ruled and pillaged by the most unscrupulous gang of public plunderers that ever infested a free country. The honest and intelligent masses, stung at last into full activity, rose against this monstrous tyranny existing under popular forms. Breaking down its power last year, they have now completed the triumph by substituting genuine reform rule, with the chief of their Committee of Seventy as Mayor.

DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, ETC.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, At 10 A M

I will sell at my auction store, corner of Front and Oak streets, the following brief paragraph, which appeared in the Eastern journal: "A novel yet simple device to destroy an unpleasant echo has been observed in the Court House at Bloomington, Ill. Four small wires were stretched across the room at a proper height. The theory is that the sound waves and prevent the reflection." We venture that this remedy has yet been applied to the Court House. The experiment is simple and inexpensive, and no harm can result from the trial. Call and see it and call to test the efficacy of the proposed remedy.

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURES.—The last of the series of lectures was delivered to a large, intelligent and appreciative audience, his lecture on the life and character of Mr. D'Aubigne, especially as connected with the revival of reformation principles in Europe, and its influence towards Christian union. Prof. Fisher, who has forever associated his name with the history of reformation in the sixteenth century, has narrated in a series of five volumes the facts of that period. The lecture was illustrated with numerous quotations and reminiscences drawn from this extended reading, and with judicious comments drawn from his own reflections—altogether an animating and attractive manner, and a profound impression upon the audience that many left the Church resolving to procure the volumes referred to.

The next lecture, the speaker announced, will be on "The Massacre of St. Bartholomew and Contemporary Events"—a subject assigned to him by the General Assembly of the Church.

NEW STEAMER.—The contract has been let by the Wallamet River Transportation Company for the building of a large first class steamer, to ply on the waters of the upper Willamette in connection with the steamer Ajax. Mr. Joseph Pacquet, a reliable and competent boat builder, has been awarded the contract. The new boat will be 150 feet keel, 30 feet beam, 5½ feet depth of hold, with a carrying capacity of 150 tons. Work will be commenced at once on the hull, and the whole will be completed and in readiness to run within sixty days from date of contract. The contract for the building of the boiler and engines have been awarded to the Willamette Iron Works. The engines have a stroke of 3 feet, with 16 inch cylinders. The working capacity will be about 100 horse power. There is a strong probability that the contract for the construction of another steamer will be let by the same company.

EAST PORTLAND WATER WORKS.—The work on the water works in Holladay's addition to East Portland, have progressed with as much rapidity as circumstances would allow, considering the inclement cold, freezing weather, which has prevailed here, retarded the work. It is the intention of the owner, to complete the works and have them in operation before spring. The main reservoir is being got in readiness, and a large force of excavating is going on. The reservoir will be supplied from the springs by a pipe conducted to the water-wheel of sufficient capacity to throw a thousand gallons an hour. This will be so arranged that when the water is turned on it will flow with the same regularity as a clock, and will require only attention whatever. It is designed that an overflow to provide against too much water in it, and is at such an elevation that the water will be carried into the highest building anywhere on the Addition.

WHARF EXTENSION.—The extensive improvements which are being made on the wharf at the foot of Main street, in the course of a week. This wharf will be used by the new steamboat recently organized, as a landing place. An additional extension is contemplated on the northern end of the old wharf. It is proposed to build a wharf about fifty feet in length, and gradually incline from the point where it joins the lower end of the present wharf to the water's edge, and of sufficient width to accommodate freight, drays, etc. The inclination of the wharf will allow vessels to land at the lowest stage of the river, and afford ample facilities for receiving or discharging of freights. In case of high tides, the vessels can load at the most convenient point.

WALL COMPLETED.—The work of building a foundation under the wall surrounding the Public School, in order to conform to the established grade, was completed yesterday. The work on this wall was a job of no small magnitude and difficulty. The foundation was, in places, the stones of the old wall being displaced by strong braces while the new stones were moved from under, and the stones of the new wall placed down. The work progressed very slow. Everything is now in readiness for the sidewalk can be dug down to the established grade along Fourth street.

NOT THE MAN.—Courts sometimes make mistakes in the names of persons arrested and brought before them, for trial, as well as in other matters. A man was arraigned a few days ago in the Police Court on a charge of dealing in the "Queen's" delicious meat. The prisoner was known as John Winters, and the fact was developed that the man's real name was Christopher Columbus instead of John. We are requested to state that the veritable John himself, who resides in Washington county, that he is not the same man who was arrested.

NEGOTIATIONS.—We learn that negotiations are pending between certain parties in this city and the business manager of Fabbri and the Italian Opera Troupe, now performing in San Francisco, which may probably result in the troupe visiting this city for a short time. The troupe have been giving performances in San Francisco for the last two months, and as there is nearly closed. Both the press and public speak in unqualified terms of praise of the merits of the talented troupe.

STABLE FINISHED.—The new stable being erected by the Oregon Transfer Company on Front street between Fifth and Sixth, has been completed. About fifteen horses belonging to the company will be stabled. A few days ago transferred to the new stable. The old stable will continue to be occupied by the company, with a portion of the horses during the winter. The transfer of horses, drays, trucks, office, etc., to the new stable will not occur until next spring.

BACK HUNT.—Mr. Kohn, a merchant doing business on Front street, met with a severe accident yesterday which will probably confine him to his house for several days. He was gathering some articles of fuel in his back yard, yesterday, when he slipped and fell, a log falling from under him. In his effort to save himself, he sprained his back very severely. Since the accident he has not been able to leave his house.

MACHINERY.—The last steamer brought a large quantity of heavy machinery for the Oregon Iron Works, belonging to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. A very large steam engine, a part of the manufacture, was also shipped to the Works. Everything was received in good order. The machinery. Everything was removed from the steamer yesterday to Kalama, and will be put in operation at that place in the company's car shops.

MARRIAGE OF COUNTS.—The United States District Court will convene next Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, at the usual hour.

The United States Circuit Court will convene next Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

The County Court will hold a special session next Saturday, 23d inst.

CAPITOL.—Several workmen were employed yesterday in placing the remainder of the stone wall around the Court House.

CITY.

DEFECTIVE ACOUSTICS —It was once a very remarkable and a subject of common remark the extremely bad acoustics of the Court House for this county A person standing any distance from the rostrum could not distinctly hear the words of a speaker and even jurors on their seats were compelled to strain their tympanums to catch the language of the attorney who might be addressing them It became such an annoyance at length that the court officials were determined to remedy the defect if possible When first completed the large dome over the building opened down into the main court room It was thought that this large circular aperture in the center of the ceiling and twenty five or fifty feet long served greatly to augment the difficulty by causing the noises to echo and reverberate through the apartment, and thus produce a succession of sound waves that clashed and conflicted It was determined to close up the opening of the dome This was done, and the defect materially remedied by the change But there is still an unpleasant confusion of sounds which will admit of additional improvement Everything has been done to destroy the echo which mechanical ingenuity can suggest thus far Our attention has just been called to the following brief paragraph, appearing in an Eastern journal 'A novel yet simple device has served to destroy an unpleasant echo in the new Court House at Bloomington, Illinois Three or four small wires were stretched across the room at a proper height The theory is that the wires break the sound waves and prevent reverberation" We venture that this remedy has never yet been applied to the Court House here The experiment is simple and inexpensive, and no harm can result from the trial. Might it not be well to see the efficacy of the proposed remedy?

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURES —Dr Lindsley delivered to a large, intelligent and appreciative audience, his lecture on the life and services of Merle D Aubigne, especially as connected with the revival of reformation principles and movements towards Christian union Prof D'Aubigne has never associated his name with histories of the reformation in the sixteenth century, which he has narrated in two sets of five volumes each

The lecture was enriched with varied illustrations and reminiscences drawn from the speaker's extended reading, and with judicious sentiments drawn from his own reflections—all delivered in an animating and attractive manner, producing a profound impression upon the audience Doubtless many left the Church resolving to read the volumes referred to

The next lecture, the speaker said, would be "The Massacre of St Bartholomew and Cognate Events"—a subject assigned by the General Assembly of the Church

NEW STEAMER.—The contract has just been let by the Wallamet River Transportation Company for the building of a large first class steamboat to ply on the waters of the upper and lower Wallamet in connection with the steamer Annie Stewart Mr Joseph Packwet, an experienced and competent boat builder, has been awarded the contract. The new boat will be 140 feet long, 28 feet beam, 5½ feet depth of hold, with a registered capacity of 150 tons Work will be commenced at once on the hull, and the whole vessel is to be completed and in readiness to run within 70 days from date of contract. The contract for the building of the boiler and engines have been awarded the Willamette Iron Works The engines will have a stroke of 3 feet, with 16 inch bore Their working capacity will be about 100 horse power There is a strong probability that the contract for the construction of another steamer will soon be let by the same company

EAST PORTLAND WATER WORKS —Operations on the water works in Holladay's Addition, East Portland have progressed with as much rapidity as circumstances would allow, until the very recent cold, freezing weather, which has in a measure, retarded the work It is the intention, however to complete the works and have them in operation before spring The masonry for the reservoir is being got in readiness, while the work of excavating is going on The reservoir will be supplied from the springs by a pump worked by a water wheel of sufficient capacity to throw twelve thousand gallons an hour. This wheel is so placed that when the water is turned on it will run with the same regularity as a clock, and needs scarcely any attention whatever. The reservoir has an overflow to provide against getting too much water in it, and is at such an altitude that water will be carried into the highest buildings anywhere on the Addition

WHARF EXTENSION —The extension, repairs and improvements which are being made to the wharf at the foot of Main street, will be finished in the course of a week. This wharf it is said will be used by the new steamboat company recently organized, as a landing place for their boats An additional extension is contemplated at the northern end of the old wharf It is proposed to build a wharf about fifty feet in length which will gradually incline from the point where it attaches to the lower end of the present wharf, to the water's edge and of sufficient width to accommodate, freight, drays, etc The inclination of the wharf will allow vessels to land at the lowest stages of the river, and afford ample facilities for the receiving or discharging of freights As the water never falls, the vessels can load at the most convenient point

WELL COMPLETED —The work of putting a foundation under the wall surrounding the Sisters' School in order to conform to the established grade was completed yesterday The building of this wall was a job of no small magnitude and difficulty The foundation was built by sections the stones of the old wall being held to their places by strong braces while the earth was removed from under, and the stones and mortar placed down. The work progressed necessarily very slow. Everything is now in readiness and the sidewalk can be dug down to the required grade along Fourth street

NOT THE MAN —Courts sometimes make mistakes in the names of persons arrested and brought before them for trial, as well as the press. A man was arraigned a few days ago in the Police Court on a charge of dealing in tainted and unwholesome meat The prisoner went by the name of John Winters, and the fact was so published The man's real name was Christopher Winters Friend of John We are requested to state by the veritable John himself, who resides in Washington county that he is not the same individual who was arrested

NEGOTIATIONS —We learn that negotiations are pending between certain parties in this city and the business manager of Fabris celebrated Italian Opera Troupe, now performing in San Francisco, which may probably result in their troupe visiting this city for a short time Fabris Troupe have been giving performances in San Francisco for the last two months The season is nearly closed Both the press and public speak in unqualified terms of praise of the ability of this talented troupe

STABLE FINISHED —The new stable in city occupied by the Oregon Transfer Company on Front between Fifth and Sixth has been completed About fifteen horses belonging to the company were a few days ago transferred to the new stable. The old stable will continue to be occupied by the company, with a portion of their horses during the winter The transfer of all the horses, drays, trucks, office, etc will not take place until next spring

BAD HURT —Mr Kohn, a merchant doing business on Front street, met with a severe fall yesterday which will probably confine him to his bed for several days He was gathering up a load of fuel in his back yard, yesterday when his foot slipped from under him In his efforts to "save himself" he sprained his back very severely Save the accident he has not been able to leave his house

MACHINERY —The last steamer brought up a large quantity of heavy machinery for working up iron belonging to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company A very large steam boiler, of modern manufacture, was also shipped here with the machinery Everything was re shipped by the steamer yesterday to Kalama and will be set in operation in the company's car shops at that place

MEETING OF COURTS.—The United States District Court will convene next Saturday morning at the usual hour

The United States Circuit Court will convene next Monday morning at 10 o clock

The County Court will hold a special meeting next Saturday, 23d inst.

CURING —Several workmen were engaged yesterday in placing the remainder of the capping on the stone wall around the Court House block

SHOULD BE OBSERVED —There are certain professional rules which should be closely observed and never overlooked in the theatrical, as well as other business We have been led to make this observation by seeing at Ore Fino Theater night after night every evening several dudes who have taken more or less prominent parts in the plays, for that evening acting and standing in the audience We submit if it is in good taste or in accordance with long established and generally acknowledged theatrical rules for an actor who has been cast to stabbed impaled on a sword a spear, burned hung blown to atoms or called upon to undergo any imaginary annihilation on a night of a crowded house to appear again clothed and in his right mind in the midst of the audience before the piece is concluded By such means dramatic unity is measurably destroyed and the effect of the play seriously marred No prurient curiosity in the mind of an actor to see how things look on the stage from the audience, should induce a member of the company to commit this thoughtless breach of good taste

RIGHTS REPEATED —Our kind and genial city 'Dads,' have never fail to recognize the fact that reporters have certain rights and privileges accorded them, which the rest of mankind are in duty bound to respect From time to time they have added substantial comforts, conveniences and facilities in the way of tables and cushioned chairs for the reporters Last night the Council demonstrated by a unanimous vote that they thought reporters were as much entitled to their full share of gas light as any one else and the Chief of Police was instructed to procure a suitable lamp for the express use of the reporter's table The importance of making good reports has not been over looked by the thoughtful Fathers

ENGINEER'S REPORT —The Common Council have received from Philadelphia, a report from Engineer Wm E Morris, on the system of general sewerage for Portland The report is exhaustive and thorough, meeting the subject in all its bearings, and setting forth the best and most approved system The report is quite voluminous—about 30 pages in length

DISCHARGED —The jury in the case of State of Oregon vs Jos Taylor and Sarah Connolly, indicted jointly for keeping a bawdy house, were discharged yesterday by the court, not being able to agree upon any verdict When the jury came in to court, they stood, nine for acquittal and three for conviction

ALLOWED TIME —In the U S District Court, yesterday morning, Eli Pilli, under indictment by the grand jury, for disposing of liquor to Indians, was brought into court A counsel was appointed by the Court to defend him, and the defendant allowed until next Saturday to plead

WRITTEN TESTIMONY —The written testimony in the case of Jacob Cline vs Emma S Lamb et al was filed yesterday in the County Clerk's office The testimony is quite voluminous having consumed twenty three days in the taking, and makes a volume of 300 folios legal cap

INSANE —The man, James Carroll, who has been arrested several times by the police for disorderly and crazy conduct, was examined yesterday before Judge Hamilton, adjudged insane, and an order issued authorizing his immediate removal to the asylum

CONSECRATION SERMON —Bishop Morris is to preach the sermon at the consecration of the new Cathedral in Victoria, on Thursday, December 5th It is expected that Bishop Hills will perform the same duty here at the consecration of Trinity Church

FINISHED AND FURNISHED —St Andrews Chapel at Kalama is now entirely completed and supplied with pews and chancel furniture, etc It is a very neat church and has the finest bell in the Territory The consecration will be delayed for the present

HELD TO ANSWER —Miss Rose Peterson was held to answer the charge of larceny before the the grand Jury of the Circuit Court, by Justice Dodge, yesterday, in the sum of $250 dollars The defendant gave bonds and was released

FINAL REPORT —We are informed that the grand jury in the Circuit Court will probably make their final report to day, having disposed of all the cases brought to their notice, and be discharged by the court.

READY TO RECEIVE —Sheriff Caywood is now ready to receive taxes on the assessment for 1872, at his office In accordance with law, he will visit every precinct in the county, in a short time, to collect taxes

ARRAIGNED —Lucius Pitman indicted by the United States grand jury for selling liquor to Indians, was arraigned yesterday morning in the United States District Court and entered a plea of not guilty

TURNING OUT WORK —The wooden ware manufactory at Oregon City are constantly engaged in turning out all kinds of buckets, tubs, keelers, etc About 13 operatives have regular employment

Be on the Safe Side

We hold health as a life by a frail tenure and not to protect them to the best of our ability would seem to argue a deficiency of common sense The searching winds and cold rains of spring the tropic heat of summer, the malarious vapors of autumn, and the paralyzing temperature of winter, are all inimicable to those finely adjusted and sensitive pieces of mechanism we call our bodies Each season has its peculiar perils, and the fall is perhaps as prolific of dangerous disorders as any of them for at this season fevers and bowel complaints are very apt to take an epidemic form As a preventive of this class of diseases, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters cannot be too warmly recommended In it are combined five essential medical properties It is a tonic, at once powerful and wholesome a stimulant pure and undefiled; an aperient, mild and painless; an anti bilious agent of marvellous efficacy and a general regulating medicine without an equal in the pharmacopœia These five distinct properties operating together in perfect harmony, produce a condition of the system somewhat analogous to that brought about by a course of pugilistic training. In other words, so judicious physical training hardens the flesh and renders it comparatively fist proof, so does this marvellous invigorant increase the capability of the organs of the body to resist the more indirect and insidious assaults of disease. It imparts new elasticity and strength to the vital machinery, and those who use it as a preventive of intermittent fever, dysentery, diarrhœa dyspepsia, rheumatism and other ailments common at this season may walk fearless through an atmosphere impregnated with the morbid elements which give rise to these maladies

My Little Laborer.

BY MRS. J. O. BURNETT.

A tiny man, with fingers soft and tender,
As any lady's fair,
Sweet eyes of blue, a form but frail and slender,
And curls of sunny hair,
A household toy, a fragile thing of beauty—
Yet with each rising sun
Begins his round of toil—a solemn duty,
That must be daily done.

To-day he's building castle, home and tower,
With wondrous art and skill,
Or labors with his hammer by the hour,
With strange, determined will;
Anon, with loaded little cart, he's plying
A brisk and driving trade
Again, with thoughtful, earnest brow is trying
Some book's dark lore to read

Now, laden like some little beast of burden,
He drags himself along,
And now his lordly little voice is heard in
Boisterous shout and song—
Another hour is spent in busy toiling
With hoop and top and ball—
And with a patience that is never failing,
He tries and conquers all

But sleep at last o'ertakes our little rover,
And on his mother's breast,
Toys thrown aside, the day's hard labor over,
He sinks to quiet rest;
And as I fold him in my bosom sleeping,
I think, 'mid gathering tears,
Of what the future may have in keeping
As work for manhood's years

Must he, with toil, his daily bread be earning,
In the world's busy mart,
Life's bitter lessons every day be learning,
With patient struggling heart?
Or shall my little architect be building
Some monument of fame,
On which, in letters bright with glories' gilding,
The world may read his name!

Perhaps some humble, lowly occupation,
But shared with sweet content;
Perhaps a life in toilier, prouder's station,
Of selfish pleasure spent.
Perchance these little feet may cross the portal
Of learning's lofty fane,
His life work be to scatter truths immortal
Among the sons of men!

Whate'er thy lot, O blessed little sleeper,
Where'er thy feet may roam,
When life's done, and Death, the world's great reaper,
Shall call thy servant home,
May'st thou go then as sweetly to thy slumbers,
Earth's toys lay gladly down,
Then rise, to wear amid heaven's angelic numbers,
A starry, radiant crown!

Suppression of the Slave Trade

We clip the following from the Boston Advertiser's London correspondence of Oct. 23.

Strong hopes are entertained among the enlightened and philanthropic people of England that the United States government will actively join the British ministry in the endeavor about to be made to put an end to the East African slave trade. Sir Bartle Frere, who is leaving on a special mission to Zanzibar, is evidently qualified by his personal opinions, by his abilities and by his complete knowledge of the subject to deal firmly and wisely, but England ought not to stand alone in the work. All maritime Christian powers should unite to enforce the treaties with the Imam of Muscat and the Sultan of Zanzibar, by which the internal slave trade was to be restricted and the foreign slave trade extinguished. The natural products of Africa would enrich the European and American markets. Livingstone's last despatches show that there exist outside the line of the slave trade tribes of a far higher physical and moral class than the more degraded specimens along the coast line, whom we are accustomed to regard as the true specimens of the African race. All these are devoted to commerce, and would welcome its legitimate development. Lord Granville, if I mistake not, has pressed the subject upon the American government, and if joint action can be decided upon, new treaty engagements absolutely prohibiting the slave trade,—abolishing all local slave-markets and sweeping away all customs and duties for the public revenue levied upon any sale of slaves whatever,—may be insisted upon. The trade in negroes from the east coast of Africa is, so far as export goes, now almost confined to the different ports within the dominions of the Sultan of Zanzibar. There is an internal traffic along the coastline from Zanzibar; but the greater portion of the traffic is with the coast of Arabia, a certain amount with Persia, and a yet smaller amount with Madagascar. The horrors of the capture and the transit of the slaves who reach the Zanzibar slave-market have been described by many witnesses, chiefly officials of the British government, in evidence before a committee of the House of Commons. Some of their statements are before me now. Arab slavers set fire to villages and carry away hundreds of captives in the confusion. They excite and help the natives of one tribe to make war upon another, and the captives become their property. In the course of these operations, thousands are killed, or die subsequently of their wounds or of starvation. The complete depopulation of the country between the coast and the present field of the slave-traders' operations attests the fearful character of these raids. Every year the slave trade is extending farther and farther inland. A distance estimated at 500 miles has to be traversed, occupying three months of almost unequalled misery, and the route of each slave caravan can be tracked by the dying and the dead. The actual scene of cruelty and blood, as given in the answers of the witnesses before the House of Commons Committee, cannot be exaggerated. For every slave brought to Kilwa there is a loss of four or five additional lives, or, as it is estimated by Dr. Livingstone, not unfrequently of ten for every victim who reaches the coast. The number annually exported from Zanzibar is estimated at 20,000, and a new set of horrors is encountered before the Arabian, Persian and Muscat slave-markets are reached. Dr. Livingstone states that the Banians at Zanzibar, who are protected British subjects, are the chief propagators of this accursed trade, and thus England, at any rate, cannot cast off responsibility. The judgment which is formed by those upon the spot, even though their interest is at stake in the preservation of the trade, is given in the vigorous words of Admiral Cockburn: "I assure your lordships it is a matter of sneer and jeer by the Arabs, our impotent attempts to stop that horrible abomination. Yes, my lords, even the Sultan says the English will talk and bully, but can't or won't stop the trade. If the governor-general of India could notify to the vast Banian confederacy in India that the British government would exert its power of punishing any Indian subject who might be convicted of participating in the traffic, the effect would be immediately felt. The Rev. H. Badger, who accompanies Sir Bartle Frere, and whose acquaintance with the whole subject is complete, suggests that a settlement of free negroes be established in Iniack Island, which is British territory. Sir Bartle Frere is understood to be in favor of freeing the Sultan of Zanzibar from his stipulated payment to the Imam of Muscat (£8,000 a year) by taking it upon ourselves.

AN INDIAN BRAVE IN LOVE WITH A WASHINGTON BELLE.—Among the red men now visiting the capital to smoke the pipe of peace, is a youthful Comanche brave, who has attracted no little attention from the ladies of Washington. The other day, during a visit of several families to the hotel where he is stopping, he saw a pretty young lady of about his own age, the daughter of one of the wealthiest men of the city, and fell so violently in love with her at first sight that when the party left the house he followed her to her residence. For two or three days subsequently he was observed hanging around the vicinity, occasionally catching a glimpse of her; and, strange to say, the lady has conceived an equally violent passion for him. On Saturday last she went out riding with him in the elegant barouche belonging to the paternal mansion, and when those having charge of her strictly forbade any further exhibitions of such bad taste on her part, she frankly declared her intention of wedding the Comanche. On the other side, the young Indian has been freely supplied with money, and declares that he will not return to the happy hunting grounds of the West unless the object of his devotion shall go with him. Of course such a deplorable state of affairs has necessitated some action on the part of the authorities. The commissioner of Indian affairs has therefore been notified that the susceptible Comanche must be made to leave the city forthwith, and a $1,000 draft had been tendered him by a brother of the the misguided girl, as a bonus for his departure. But the Comanche is incorrigible, and steadily resists all overtures. The delicate circumstances of the case, and the fear of their names being given publicity in the event of a denouement, have so far worked upon the the relatives of the girl that she will be taken thence to New York on the through train to-night, and, notwithstanding the lateness of the season, will quietly take passage to Europe by an early steamer, the distracted millionaire whose daughter she is perceiving no other way to cure her of her unhappy predilection.—Washington Dispatch to Boston Traveller.

London Finances

The London (England) Economist, in its issue of the 26th ultimo reports the fluctuations of the London market, and the uncertainties to which business there is subjected by the effort to control the flow of gold, in the following terms

"The scarcity of money which prevailed when we last wrote still continues although an approachment that the Bank rate would be advanced to 7 ₱ cent., which existed early in the week, has not been carried out. The feature of the market on hence to be the scarcity of money in the London Joint Stock and private banks who are accordingly calling in their deposits with the bill brokers, so that the latter have nothing to lend, and have been obliged, to a large extent, to resort to the Bank for accommodation. At the same time the high rates which are now charged in the open market, as well as at the Bank, appear to have slight effect in attracting bullion from abroad. The continental exchanges keep in our favor, but only small parcels of gold have arrived, principally from Paris, and though further arrivals are anticipated, there is yet no confident expectation of any considerable amount. About £240,000 is expected from Australia at the beginning of next month, and it is reported to-day that shipments are being made from New York, though the last operation at the present rates of exchange was not a good pay, but altogether it seems doubtful whether enough can be exported from abroad during the next few weeks to meet all the demands that will be made. The internal drain also continues, so that the Bank reserve, though it has not diminished since last week, can hardly fail to exhibit a large falling off at next return. In these circumstances the common feeling in the market is that another advance will be necessary, and regret is expressed at the change not having been made this week. At the Bank to day there has been a very good demand, and the rates are firmly maintained in the open market, in consequence of the scarcity of money, although there is very little pressure."

American Coal in England.

Large exchanges say the exportation of American coal to England has already begun, and several hundred thousand tons have been purchased on English orders. The purchases are of soft or bituminous coal, which is more commonly used in Europe than the anthracite. Several vessels have left Georgetown, D C, with cargoes of coal for foreign countries, and others are expected to clear before the close of navigation English manufacturers will not be able to compete very long with American industry if they have to use American coal. The manufacturers can come where the coal is cheap.

The Cotton Trade.

According to the statistics of the manufacture of Cotton Goods, just sent to the press from the Census Office, the number of distinct establishments in the United States is 956. Materials used during the year 0, 2,2,369 pounds of Cotton Yarn, 126,100 pounds of Cotton Warps 5,281,269 pounds of Cotton Wastes, value of mill supplies, $10,910,672. Total value of all materials, $111,-737,086. Articles produced: 478,204,181 yards of Sheetings, Shirtings and Twilled Goods; 24,833,402 yards Lawns and Jaco Muslins. 480,250,030 yards of Print Cloths; 30,201,053 pounds of Yarn, 11,666,241 dozen spools of Thread; 73,018,545 yards of Cotton Warp, 11,116,127 pounds of Batts, Wicking and Wadding, 483,-592 Table Cloths, Quilts and Counterpanes, 2,757,030 Seamless Bags; 6,057,454 pounds of Cordage, Lines and Twine, 931,050 pounds of Thread; 8,370,050 yards of Cotton Flannels; 30,276,746 yards of Ginghams and Checks; 7,921,449 pounds of Waste; 484,400 pounds of Tassel Wadding, 466,585 pounds of Seamless Bags; 13,040,096 yards of Cassimeres, Cottonades and Jeans; 10,811,028 pounds of miscellaneous products. Aggregate weight of Goods produced, 849 314,692 pounds; aggregate value of products, $177,459,739

Miscellaneous.

To October 31st, the first ten months of 1872, the receipts of Puget Sound Coal at San Francisco were, from Seattle, 11,050 tons, and from Bellingham Bay, 2,240 tons.

The Olympia Courier says: Timothy Hay at Seattle has advanced from $15 and $16 per ton to $17 50, with small supply in market. Ellis & Foster have purchased a lot of Oalisornia Hay made of Oats, for which they paid $30 ₱ ton. Farmers may feel assured that Hay will bear an advanced price this winter, especially if the winter should be severe, for the Hay crop of this year was light. $16 ₱ ton has for timothy Hay in the Olympia market is not what it is worth. It will sell for $20 or $25 before Spring.

Advices of the 9th from New York says: Whale and Sperm Oils are slow of sale at former values. Lard Oil is hardly as firm. Crude Cotton Seed Oil is in limited demand, but the receipts are also limited. Yellow Winter has a downward tendency. Menhaden Oil rules firm.

The exports of Petroleum from New York since the opening of the year, reach 76,876,716 gallons, as compared with 81,000,001 for the same time in 1871.

Large quantities of Wool are now daily arriving at Sacramento, purchased at low rates in the county. Shipments to the East having been suspended, the storehouses in Sacramento are rapidly filling.

Produce Market.

Wheat to-day seems inactive and we hear of but few transactions. From some cause, the receipts have considerably diminished. And buyers are not urging offers on the market. The cargo of the British vessel Nauvoo, consisting of 13,000 centals passed on private terms. Our quotations at $1 40 per 100 pounds remain unchanged

Oats are in better demand and sales are easily effected at $1 40 per cental sacked and delivered while small lots of choice have changed hands at $1 50.

Flour sympathizes with the dullness in the wheat market and a quiet prevails, though the local demand is air. Extra brands are quoted at $6 per bbl, while outside and country range from $4@4 75 Superfine $3 75 @4 00.

Potatoes are unchanged with a better demand and a tendency to more firmness.

Feed is higher especially bran, of which the supply in store is small. An advance is noted in San Francisco and $2 per ton has been added to the rates here

Dairy products appear to have weakened a little through large receipts. Good fresh butter is as easily obtained now as at any time for weeks, though prices remain as at our last quotations:

Eggs are in but little better su, ply and prices range rather above than below 50 cents per dozen for those known to be fresh.

Provisions are unchanged and our figures below will be found correct as to the general market.

The Coffee Crop of 1872

The New York advices by mail of the 9th inst. report the sales of Coffee from first hands during the month o October, at the six coffee ports, as reaching the large amount of 13,000 tons, of which 225 tons were exported, leaving the amount taken for the home trade 13,075 tons. The month opened with a stock in New York of 13,000 tons, comprising 72,000 bags Rio, 26,700 bags Maracaibos 8,950 bags and 140,340 mats Java and Singapore, and 32,-500 bags of other kinds. On the same date, Boston importers held 20,000 mats Java and 270 bags St. Domingo; those of Philadelphia, 1,280 bags Laguayra, Baltimore, 12,100 bags Rio, Mobile, 4,500 bags Rio, while at New Orleans there was no Coffee in first hands The market all round was dull, the lower qualities having declined to 14@16 ₱ lb, gold, and the only demand being for choice Brazil, which was scarce. The last week in October was marked by a considerable activity, the sales of Rio at New York and to arrive footing up 18,116 bags, and the lower grades improving ¼¢, the closing quotations for the month being 15@18¼¢, gold, against the opening prices, 14@17½¢ On the 31st the stock in first hands and supplies afloat had increased to 207,078 bags, while the Rio telegram of the 7th gave the stock there at 160,-000 bags; daily receipts 9,000 bags; prices unchanged, but market quiet and quotations nominal The movement of Rio coffee at the different ports for the month is summed up as follows

	1872 bags	1871 bags.
Stock, October 1	59,124	48,963
Imports	113,972	155,729
Supply	203,096	204,412
Stock, November 1	54,456	28,110
Distribution in October	148,639	176,302

This shows a large increase in the distribution, as up to October 1st it had averaged less than 95,000 bags per month The total distribution during the ten months ending October 31st was 950,000 bags.
